

Mandarin Chinese

汉语 (hanyu) or 中文 (zhongwen)

As part of the National Curriculum, from 2014 in England learning a foreign language has been compulsory for Key Stage 2 children. It sets out the following Purpose of Study for learning a foreign language:

- To provide an opening to other cultures
- To foster pupils' curiosity and deepen their understanding of the world
- To express their ideas and thoughts in another language and to understand and respond to its speakers
- To learn new ways of thinking and read great literature in the original language
- To provide foundation for learning future languages and equip pupils to study and work in other countries.

The National Curriculum for languages aims to ensure all pupils:

- Understand and respond to spoken and written language
- Speak with increasing confidence, fluency and spontaneity, and continually improve their pronunciation
- Write at varying lengths using a variety of grammatical structures
- Develop an appreciation of a range of writing in the language.
- Lay the foundations for further foreign language learning at KS3

Today's children grow up in an increasingly multi-cultural society and the ability to communicate in some of the most commonly spoken languages has become more relevant. We are a forward thinking school and have been teaching Chinese Mandarin to our Year 6 children for the last few years since 2014. We are very pleased to be one of only a handful of primary schools in the UK to offer such an increasingly popular language to our pupils.

Learning Mandarin, the most commonly spoken language in the world, can help individuals learn more about China's charming culture and ancient history. Moreover, developing this invaluable skill can help to increase employability in the future. The earlier a child starts learning languages, the better, and that particularly applies to Mandarin.

Since 2018, we have rolled out Mandarin teaching as part of Modern Foreign Language (MFL) curriculum throughout the school from Reception to Year 6. This project was initially funded by Swire Chinese Language Foundation with two qualified Chinese Teachers provided to deliver formal structured lessons to KS2 children and introducing Mandarin to all children from the moment they enter Reception. We now recruit our Chinese Language Assistant through British Council. We have been building our capacity over the last few years and are proud to become self-sufficient and able to continue to operate without the need for further funding but work in close partnership with Swire Chinese Language Foundation and other local schools.

At WSL Mandarin is taught following the Mandarin Curriculum designed by Swire Chinese Language Foundation, as well as other online resources. This helps provide a variety of learning materials based on the age and level of attainment for each child.

We ensure the process of learning Mandarin is enjoyable - a typical lesson is very interactive, packed with fun activities such as singing songs, playing language games, reading simple Chinese books and reciting and performing poems. In every lesson, children practise their speaking and listening skills. They practise the pronunciation out loud, this is largely done using games, songs and rhymes with a regular phonics warm-up to establish correct pronunciation. As well as participating in whole-class oral work, the children get lots of opportunity to practise with their peers in pairs or small groups. Alongside these skills, all classes will explore the fundamentals of the written language, and will gradually build their ability in reading and writing Chinese characters as they progress through the curriculum.

Exploring aspects of Chinese culture is an integral part of the learning and where possible, references to Chinese culture, history and geography are incorporated into the language exercises. It is interesting and fun for the children to find out about China and the Chinese way of life and compare it with their own. We are keen for the children to bring in their own cultural experiences and knowledge of other languages to the Mandarin lesson. We ensure children learn Mandarin in context and to find pleasure in the process.

Above all, the aim of our Mandarin and Chinese Culture Curriculum is to:

- 'Lay the foundations' and inspire children and equip them with the skills and confidence to learn foreign languages going into Key Stage Three (KS3) and beyond
- Deepen intercultural awareness through exploring another culture and way of life and give WSL Primary children the opportunity to understand core British values within a global context.
